

EVENING BULLETIN.

"HEW TO THE LINE, LET THE CHIPS FALL WHERE THEY MAY."

VOLUME 2.

MAYSVILLE, MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 22, 1883.

NUMBER 52.

HOLIDAY GOODS!

Call and examine our IMMENSE stock of goods suitable for HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

Larger Stock Than Ever Before Displayed.

J. C. PECOR & CO.,
MAYSVILLE, Ky.

J. C. Kackley & Co.
—Dealers in—

Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Hats Caps and Clothing.

Goods always what they are recommended to be. Main Street, Germantown, Ky.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain it effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.
ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.
Respectfully yours,
CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unequalled success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

PAUL D. ANDERSON,
DENTIST.
No. 21 Market St., nearly opp. Central Hotel,
Office Open at all Hours. MAYSVILLE, KY
my18ly.d.

JAS. H. SALLEE, CLARENCE L. SALLEE.
SALLEE & SALLEE,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
And Real Estate Agents.
OFFICE ON COURT STREET
sepl6dly MAYSVILLE, KY

CHINA, GLASS and QUEENSWARE

—to suit all tastes and purses at—
G. A. MCCARTHEY'S
CHINA DEPOT.
my5dly No. 30, East Second street.

P. S. MYERS,
—Dealer in—
Groceries, Hats and Caps
Boots and Shoes, Queensware and Hardware.
Highest cash price paid for Grain and Country Produce.
jyl5d MT. OLIVET

NEW DOMESTIC PATTERNS
—AT—
Hunt & Doyle's.

F. H. TRAXEL,
Baker and Confectioner

FRESH OYSTERS A SPECIALTY.
The only manufacturer of PURE STICK CANDY in the city. Orders for weddings and parties promptly attended to. my4dly

NOTICE.
A CAR-LOAD of the celebrated
WEBSTER WAGONS
just received. Call and get one for less money than you ever bought a Wagon.
aug2dly MYALL & RILEY.

FRESH OYSTERS
PINE APPLE HAMS,
Home-made Yeast Cakes.
my9dly GEORGE HEISER.

WATCHES
—CHANGED TO—
Stem WINDERS.
J. BALLENGER at Albert's China Store adjoining Pearce, Wallingford & Co.'s Bank. apl46md

FOR SALE.

HAVING determined to go west I now offer for sale my entire stock of

China, Glass and Queensware,

with the good will of the house and all information in my possession regarding the business. I have a new and well selected stock, in first rate condition and bought at low figures. Any parties wishing to enter into a good, safe paying business, now have an opportunity seldom offered.

The Fall and Holiday trade is now just on us, and an early buyer will get all the benefit therefrom. In the meantime I shall sell goods at retail and wholesale at almost cost.
o17-d4wt G. A. MCCARTHEY.

Land Drainage in the West.

Drainage land by the employment of tile placed several feet below the surface of the ground has made but little progress in the Western States until within the past few years. The great advantages of this method of draining damp soils were demonstrated in various parts of Europe many years ago, and the system there pursued was introduced into some of the Eastern States. There was a greater necessity for underdrainage in the West than in the East, for the reasons that the surface of the land is more nearly level and the soils more retentive of moisture. It is also true in respect to many portions of the West that the rainfall is very unequally distributed during the year. There is a great excess during the early part of the season and deficiency during the latter portion. The desirability of thorough, systematic and scientific land drainage was acknowledged, but several reasons prevented its adoption. Many farmers were in debt for their land, or for improvements they had made on it. Others owed considerable for farming implements and stock. Still others were desirous of buying more land in the vicinity of their farms while it was still comparatively cheap. All these persons hesitated about borrowing money to improve their places by laying drain-tile. A farmer who has just got out of debt hesitates to plunge in again. He realizes such a relief from a great burden that he is reluctant to assume a new one. Farmers who are land-hungry are reluctant to pay out as much money to drain a piece of land as it will cost to purchase another piece of equal extent. Besides, many farmers have neglected to drain their land for want of information on the subject, and on account of a lack of material within easy reach.

The present is a favorable time for Western farmers to consider the propriety of draining their low lands. Most of them have money to invest. Some desire more land, but they find it hard to obtain in the vicinity of their homes. They can do no better than to render the land they have more productive by means of drainage. On many farms there are tracts that produce nothing but coarse grass that is of little value for stock. These low tracts can be rendered the most productive of any on the farm by the judicious use of drain-tile. Low land receives the wash of that which lies above it, and in time becomes very rich in all the elements of plant food. By the use of drain-tile the area of plowable land can be greatly increased on a large proportion of prairie farms. By the same means the productiveness of much land that can be plowed in favorable seasons can be increased. In many cases the yield of nearly all the cultivated crops can be doubled by the adoption of a suitable drainage. If a farmer wishes to raise more than he now does, and has the choice between buying more land and draining what he owns, it is better to select the latter course. By so doing he will save fencing and taxes. He will also save much labor. No more plowing and cultivating, and but little more labor in harvesting, are required to produce a large crop than a small one. Drainage increases the quality as well as the quantity of crops. It also lengthens out the season in which the land can be worked. It enables the farmer to plow earlier in the spring and later in the fall. It also enables him to do better work with any implement he uses in the soil. It helps insure crops against bad seasons.

However desirable underdrainage may be, it should not be undertaken without due consideration. A farmer should learn before he commences operations how much the improvements are to cost. He should ascertain where he can obtain tile, the cost at the manufactory, and the cost of transportation. He should also learn how to dig ditches, lay the tile, and place the earth about them. Ditching is an art that requires considerable skill. Many farmers have lost heavily by attempting to underdrain land with the aid of such knowledge as they have derived from a newspaper article or a circular sent out by some tile factory. Unless a farmer is willing to spend considerable time in learning how to do the work properly, and to purchase the necessary tools and implements, he will find it profitable to employ the services of a surveyor to lay out the work, and to engage an experienced ditcher to perform it. Much can be learned by visiting some portion of Indiana or Illinois, where much land has been drained. Excellent works on farm drainage have been written, which give in detail nearly all the information required to enable an intelligent farmer to do all the work.—Chicago Times.

WIT AND WISDOM.

—Keep trouble at arm's length. Never turn a blessing around to see whether it has a dark side to it.

—Mistress—"What a time you've been about that egg, Mary." Mary—"Yes, ma'am; but the new kitchen clock has such large minutes!"—Punch.

—An Iowa farmer bet a new hat that he could cross the railroad track with his team before the train came up. He lost by ten feet. The distance was measured by his heirs.—Chicago Herald.

—Young lady writing a love letter for the kitchen maid—"That's about enough now, isn't it?" Kitchen maid—"One thing more, Miss; just say please excuse bad spell n' writin'."

—"Ratty taste," said the butcher, "can't understand it. Those sausages were not made of rats, sir, and you know it. May be the cats had caught and eaten a few though."—Boston Post.

—"Women govern us," said Sheridan: "let us try to render them more perfect. The more they are enlightened, so much the more we shall be. On the cultivation of the minds of women depends the wisdom of man."

—Orpheus drew rocks by the all-compelling power of his music. The music of the harmless, necessary cat is still more potent. It not only draws rocks, but pokers, boot-jacks and all sorts of movable furniture.—Boston Transcript.

—It does torment a railroad restaurant keeper frightfully to have a customer ask: "How much will you charge me a thousand for such sandwiches as these? I'm going to build a house, and I think they'd be more durable than brick."—Boston Post.

—A Michigan farmer paid $25 for a divining rod and went poking about his farm until the rod suddenly tipped. Men were engaged to excavate at the spot, and in less than half an hour they had exhumed the bones of an old horse.—Detroit Post.

—A Boston editor bounced the cook, culled two children, let his wife in tears, and made a bee-line for the office, and wrote: "If you want to make the world brighter and better, begin by being kind and loving to those in the small circle of your own family, and from that as a center work out as you are permitted to go."—Detroit Free Press.

—"You needn't put on no airs, you yaller-face piece. We keeps a cow and has got a pew in the Blue Light (Austin) taberna le besides," were the words of Miss Catildy Snowball, who is as black as night, to a saddle-colored friend. "I don't kee e we habn't got no cow. We keeps a goat, and my mudder is gwine to hab a carbuncle on de back of her neck."—Texas Sittings.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN

MONDAY EVE., JANUARY 22, 1883.

TERMS:—The EVENING BULLETIN is published daily, and served free of postage at 6 cents per week; 25 cents per month; 75 cents per three months; $1.50 per six months, and $3 per year, payable in advance.

THE EVENING BULLETIN HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION IN THIS CITY, CHESTER AND ABERDEEN, OHIO, THAN ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED IN MAYSVILLE.

Our Agents.

The following persons are the authorized agents for the DAILY BULLETIN at the places named. Contracts for subscription or advertising may be made with them:

GERMANTOWN—T. J. Kackley & Co.
WASHINGTON—Mrs. Anna Thomas.
MAYSVILLE—J. A. Jackson.
MT. OLIVET—Peter Myers.
SARDIS—P. W. Suit.
FERN LEAF—Harry Burgoyne.
MINERVA—W. H. Hawes.
SHANNON—Wm. Clary.

The Mercury in Nevada, on Saturday, stood fifty-five degrees below zero.

GUITEAU's bones have been legally transferred to Surgeon General Crane.

It is alleged that Senator Hoar was re-elected by means of fraud and forgery.

The old question of claims by American citizens against Mexico is to be raised now that the proposed treaty, with that country is under consideration.

A GIGANTIC strike in the Anthracite region of Pennsylvania seems to be imminent, numbering 75,000 or 100,000 men; and if it takes place we may expect bloodshed.

The assignee of Archbishop Purcell has brought suit against the Commissioners of Hamilton County, Ohio, for the refund of $6,852.24 taxes paid on the Cathedral property.

SAYS the Lexington Gazette: A purchasing agent of the largest manufactory of smoking and fine-cut chewing tobacco in the world had instructions to buy tobacco raised in the Blue-grass parts of Kentucky at a premium of three cents per pound over any other tobacco grown.

The list of artists who are to appear at the Opera Festival at Cincinnati, includes Patti, Albani, Schalchi and Furch-Madi, who will appear in the following: La Traviata, Jan. 29th.; L'Africaine, Jan. 30th.; La Somnambula, Jan. 31st.; Wm. Tell, Jan. 31st.; Semiramide, Feb. 1st.; Flying Dutchman, Feb. 2nd.; Don Giarani, Feb. 3rd.; Lohengrin, Feb. 3th.

A Rich Negro.

Crawford (Ga.) Weekly.

Pleasant Harper, colored, is a large land owner and farmer of South Georgia. Over a year ago he bought a plantation for $32,000, and at that time every one said he would never liquidate the debt. He has already paid $11,000 on the purchase. Harper owns the finest lot of mules in the country, has his farm well stocked, and is worth $40,000. He is said to be a fine manager, and works hands hard.

Wrapped in the stars and stripes, and carrying a pitchfork in his hand, Joseph France, lunatic, walked from West Middletown to Washington, Pa. Society is divided as to whether he intended to impersonate the Goddess of Liberty, or old Neptune, with his trident.

ODE TO A GOVERNMENT MULE.

O, Government mule,
With thy pensive smile so meek,
Embodiment of colossal cheek,
Of thee I sing—
Of thee
With thy winsome smile and plaintive bleat,
Esthetic ears and generous feet,
O, Government mule!

Lurking somewhere in thy treacherous heel,
Condensed chain lightning thou dost conceal,
And like a bolt from heaven sent,
Thy limber legs with skill unbent
Demonstrates the absurd excess
Of thy internal cussedness.

O mule, thou breakest me all up
And fill'st with bitterness my cup,
The joyous thrill of thy plaintive bray
As thou cooest thy path-tie lay
(The sweetest warbling ever heard),
Giveth points to the snide canary bird
Of Washoe.

O,
For rapturous song thou takest the bun,
And to thee, O festive sun-of-a-gun,
I dedicate this ode.
—San Francisco Wasp.

FAMILIAR QUOTATIONS.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever.—Keats.

Nursing her wrath to keep it warm.—Burns.

Make a sunshine in a shady place.—Spenser.

To point a moral, or adorn a tail.—Johnson.

All went merry as the marriage bell.—Byron.

His pity gave ere charity began.—Goldsmith.

A little round fat, oily man of God.—Thompson.

God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb.—Sterne.

A gilded halo hovering around decay.—Byron.

She walks the water like a thing of life.—Byron.

Even his failing leaned to virtue's side.—Goldsmith.

Coming events cast their shadows before.—Campbell.

They also serve, who only stand and wait.—Milton.

Like angel's visits, few and far between.—Campbell.

Airy tongues that only syllable men's names.—Milton.

The childhood shows the man, as morning shows the day.—Milton.

If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small.—Proverb.

Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn.—Burns.

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

A Philadelphia physician has made a special study of the phenomena of death, both through his personal observations and those of others, and his conclusion is that the dissolution is painless. "I mean," he explains, "that it approaches as unconsciously as sleep. The soul leaves the world as painlessly as it enters it. Whatever be the causes of death, whether by lingering malady or sudden violence, dissolution comes either through syncope or asphyxia. In the latter case, when resulting from disease, the struggle is long protracted, and accompanied by all the visible marks of agony which the imagination associates with the closing scene of life. Death does not strike all the organs of the body at the same time, and the lungs are the last to give up the performance of their functions. As death approaches the latter gradually become more and more oppressed; hence the rattle. Nor is the contact sufficiently perfect to change the black venous into the red arterial blood; an unprepared fluid consequently issues from the lungs into the heart, and is then transmitted to every other organ of the body. The brain receives it, and its energies appear to be lulled thereby into sleep—generally tranquil sleep—filled with dreams which impel the dying to murmur out the names of friends and the occupations and recollections of past life."

It is right to be contented with what we have, not with what we are.—Mackintosh.

BORN.
At Ripley, O., to the wife of J. Kapp, a daughter.

At Flemingsburg, Ky., to the wife of Judge J. P. Harbeson, a son.

At Flemingburg, Ky., to the wife of Hon. W. J. Hendrick, a son.

At Flemingsburg, Ky., to the wife of Judge J. S. Power, a son.

WANTS.

WANTED—A few day boarders. Boarding house located in the central part of town. Apply to J. 6dtf THIS OFFICE.

WANTED—Lodgers—Two or three nice gentlemen can get lodging, with or without board. Apply to Ottf THIS OFFICE.

WANTED—Persons wanting water introduced into their houses will please call on the undersigned at the office of A. Finch & Co. CHARLES PHISTER, Solicitor for Water Co. J19dtf

NOTICE—The owner of a mull and a black satin parasol left at our store, the former a few days ago and the latter last fall, will please call and get them. J19dtf A. R. GLASCOCK & CO.

WANTED—By a single man of good habits a position on a farm. Understands all about farm work, and raising tobacco. Best of references furnished. In the last place 18 years. Address, A. L. B. THIS OFFICE. Jan16dtf

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—The old "Pickett & Perrine" mill property on Lawrence creek. Contains 29 acres of land, with dwelling-house, mill-building, orchard, etc. Borders on turnpike. Price, $1,250. Apply at once to M. F. MARSH, Court Street, Jan4

FOR SALE OR RENT—A splendid farm of 300 acres on Kinney Creek, 14 miles from Vanceburg, Lewis county, Ky. New tobacco barn and new ground ready for first crop tobacco. For particulars apply to H. C. BARKLEY, Maysville, Ky. [Vanceburg Courier copy 1 month, send bill to this office.] J8dtf

NOTICE.

SEALED PROPOSALS

Will be received until February 1, 1883, by the undersigned, for the sale and removal of the material in the market house building. The material can be used in a tobacco barn or other buildings of similar kind. For particulars call on me at the Phoenix Saw Mill in the 5th Ward. W. B. MATHEWS, J23d3t1w1t Ch'm Com. on Public Buildings.

NOTICE.

ON and after the 1st day of March I will be at my carpenter shop on Fourth street, prepared to take orders for building and repairing, G. M. WILLIAMS, Contractor and Builder. J24d2m

EDGEWOOD.

Desirable Country Place For Sale.

I WILL sell privately, on reasonable terms, my place known as Edgewood, on the Lexington turnpike, one and a fourth miles from Maysville. The tract contains 17 acres, more or less, and has on it a of seven rooms and a kitchen, a good stable, and all other necessary outbuildings, together with a good tenant house of three rooms. The place is well watered, has on it a good bearing fruit orchard of all varieties, is well adapted to gardening and being convenient to the city is very desirable. Title perfect. For terms apply on the place to WILLIAM HUFF. Jan19dtf

FINE DWELLING

T. LOWRY.

—DEALER IN—

STAPLE AND FANCY

CROCERIES,

Teas, Tobacco, Cigars, Queensware, Wooden ware, Glassware, Notions, &c. Highest price paid for Country Produce. Goods delivered to any part of the city.

Cor. Fourth and Plum Streets,

apl2tyd

MAYSVILLE, KY.

LADIES,

WE have a few fine Pelisses, Paletots and Cloaks which we will sell at astonishingly low prices. Call and see them and secure a bargain. J181wb A. R. GLASCOCK & CO.

BUY YOUR WATCHES, JEWELRY

AND SILVERWARE AT
H. LANGE'S JEWELRY STORE.

No. 43, Second Street, 3 doors West of Market, aug31dy

T. B. FULTON. J. E. DAVIS.

FULTON & DAVIS,

—Manufacturers of—

OHIO VALLEY MILLS FAMILY FLOUR,

Corn, Shorts and Shipstuff.

Flour for sale by all grocers in the city.

FULTON & DAVIS,

au18dy ABERDEEN, O

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

MESSERS, J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen:

Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.

Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all druggists; price $1, six bottles for $5.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

Best Purgative Medicine

cure Constipation, Indigestion, Headache, and all Bilious Disorders.

Sold everywhere. Always reliable.

NOTICE.

IT having been asserted that I am preparing to move to the country and give up my interest in the Sewing Machine business, I take this method of announcing to my friends and the public that there is not a word of truth in it except that I will move my family to the country but will continue to sell the OLD RELIABLE SINGER at the same place, second street, opposite postoffice, and run my wagons in the country as heretofore. Competitors please notice the above. I am thankful to the public for the large patronage I have received for the past nine years, and respectfully solicit a share in the future. G. A. McCRACKEN, Jan24dtf Agent for the Singer Manufacturing Co.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN,

MONDAY EVE., JANUARY 22, 1883.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,

PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

THE mercury to zero point,
Has very coolly dropped,
And loafers into winter place,
Most speedily have popped.
The muddy streets are solid made,
And freezing are the fountains;
In fact its just about as cold
As Greenland's icy mountains.

BAIRD's Minstrels with thirty-five performers will be here next Friday the 26th inst.

THE argument in the turnpike case closes to-day. The Cooper murder case will probably come up for trial to-morrow.

THERE is some talk of building a railroad from Cynthiana to Cowan's Station, in Nicholas county, taking in the Blue Lick springs in its route.

THE Frankfort Yeoman says:

The firm of James H. Hall & Co., of Maysville, has been shipping plows to the West Indies for more than twenty years, and are still doing a prosperous business there. It is one of the oldest and most reliable plow manufacturing in the United States.

MR. W. B. MATHEWS, Chairman of the Committee on Public Buildings, advertises elsewhere that he will receive until February 1st proposals for the sale and removal of the material of the old market house building. Read the advertisement.

THE Ripley papers announce that eight indictments have been reported by the grand jury against Lucien B. Martin and W. L. Mockbee for "obtaining money by false pretenses," "obtaining signatures to checks by false pretenses" and for "embezzlement."

RIP VAN WINKLE will be presented at the Opera House on February 1st by Robert McWade, the well known comedian, who is considered by many persons the equal of Joe Jefferson. On the occasion of McWade's appearance in Maysville several years ago, the Opera House was filled to overflowing.

THE following is from the Cincinnati Enquirer:

The extension of the Ohio River Branch of the Cincinnati & Eastern Railroad from New Richmond to Aberdeen, opposite Maysville, Ky., via Point Pleasant, Felicity, and Higginsport, will be pushed the coming season. This will probably be done by an independent organization, although closely allied to the C. & E., for traffic purposes. Responsible contractors stand ready to build this extension as soon as surveys partially made are completed. This company has shown commendable energy in pushing forward the work on main road. If they display as much enterprise in the construction of the Ohio River Branch, the shrill whistle of the locomotive will be heard in Ripley before January, 1884.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Prof. Johnson is teaching singing in the public schools at Ripley.

Mr. James Burns, of Flemingsburg, was in Maysville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hall will leave for the South on Wednesday.

Mr. J. R. Sousley returned on Saturday evening from a visit to friends in Indiana.

The Portsmouth Tribune says:

Cards are out for the marriage on January 24th of Miss Jennie Peters, formerly of this city, with a young man of Maysville, Mr. Wm. Houlister, to take place in the latter city. Portsmouth girls are not safe away from home.

The Morristown, (Ind.) Herald says:

Robert Sousley, of Kentucky, and who lived in Morristown about twenty years ago, returned here on a visit last Friday evening. We heard him renewing his acquaintance with some of our citizens; Newton Johnson, whom he had not seen since he left here, he recognized on first sight, and reminded him of old relations by reference to a midnight meander in the potato patch. Mr. Sousley is a clever gentleman.

BY TELEGRAPH.

A BLOODY BATTLE.

One Hundred and Ten Men Killed in a Mexican Engagement.

MATAMORAS, MEXICO, January 21.—Reports are just received here of a desperate fight a few days ago near Tehuantepec, between the Seventh Battalion, M. M., and the Tehuantepec Indians, who have been giving trouble. The latter were completely defeated, leaving eighty killed and many wounded on the field. The Government forces lost thirty men killed and many wounded. Among the former was the Lieutenant Colonel of the Seventh Battalion. The Indians were routed.

Terrible Train Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—On the Tehachapa grade, Southern Pacific road, a passenger train broke loose from the engine and ran away four miles and was thrown down an embankment. The train took fire and burned about twenty persons fatally. A large number of the passengers were injured.

Steamer Sunk.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The Steamer Cimbria was sunk in the German ocean off Barkum yesterday in a collision with the Sultan. She sunk in fifteen minutes after. Thirty-nine persons have landed but other boats are still missing. Great loss of life is feared.

Excursion Rates.

During the Opera Festival, which begins at Cincinnati on the 28th inst., and continues until February 3rd, the Kentucky Central will sell excursion tickets at extremely rates, which will be good until February 5th. A special train will leave Covington at midnight on Thursday, February 1st, and Saturday, February 3rd, which will run through to Lexington, stopping at all stations. On this date tickets will be sold, good going on any train and returning on special, at half rates or one fare for the round trip.

House Burned.

MR. John Farrar's dwelling at Glenville, occupied by his own and another family burned to the ground on the 17th inst. Nearly all of the household property was saved. The loss on the building, which was not insured, amounts to about $1,000.

COUNTY POINTS.

MILLWOOD.

Sometimes we sing go and tell Jesus but oftener we go and tell the preacher.

Harry Sutton, infant son of John Hoss, has been very low with pneumonia.

R. D. H. Hughes, of Oak Grove, visited relatives here last week.

The Helena school will give an exhibition sometime in February at the M. E. Church, in Helena, further information will be given in the near future.

Mrs. Etta Graham, of Canada, and Mrs. Bettie Smoot, of Maysville, visited their sister, Mrs. Dr. S. D. Dougherty, last week.

Many who would not for the world utter a falsehood, but yet they are eternally scheming to produce false impressions on the minds of others respecting facts, characters and opinions.

Miss Ada Hord, one of our most accomplished young ladies, left Saturday for a visit to relatives in Carlisle.

Eld. Dobyns, of Helena, will move to Dobynsburg, near Mt. Gilead, in the near future.

Tom Coan, of Lewisburg, purchased his residence for the sum of $700. Young ladies are more courageous than men, they are ready to make a match with a fellow twice their size.

Mr. Lewis Long sold to T. L. Best his crop of tobacco at $12 and $3.

Mr. Dixon, of Orangeburg, delivered to Mr. Best his crop of tobacco last week. Price, $12 and $3.

Miss Mattie Cord is visiting Miss Sallie Bullock, of Orangeburg, this week.

Our enterprising merchant is thinking of leaving us. How we will miss him.

The BULLETIN seems to be "the" paper at this place, judging from the size of the bundle left with us every week.

There is not much sickness in or around Millwood, which is remarkable, taking into consideration the weather being so changeable.

Mr. Seldon Bramble and family were presented with a fine boy a few days ago.

Come and hear Prof. Zollars Sunday. He gives us sound language and true doctrine.

Mrs. Morrison Clarke celebrated her sixteenth wedding anniversary last week. Presents were scarce but handsome.

ROUGH AND READY.

CITY ITEMS.

Advertisements inserted under this heading 10c per line for each insertion.

TRY Langdon's City Butter Crackers.

FOR rubber stamps of all kinds, call on A. Soeries & Son. Prices very low.

HUNT & DOYLE are receiving their spring stock of hamburgs. jan161wd&w

THE ladies are invited to call at Burgess & Nolin's and see their handsome stock of Hamburg Edgings just received. j1913t

CORN WANTED.—Robinson & Co., of the Maysville City Mills, desire to buy ten thousand bushels of corn for which they will pay the highest cash price. j5.

AYER's Pills cure constipation, improve the appetite, promote digestion, restore healthy action, and regulate every function. They are pleasant to take, gentle in their operations, yet thorough, searching and powerful in subduing disease.

We are asked to say that the Rev. M. D. Reynolds, who has discontinued house-keeping, has a lot of household furniture in good condition, that he will sell at very reasonable prices. Enquire at the office in the M. E. Church, South, in the forenoon. j182td.

Notes of the Day.

Governor Grant, of Colorado, wants the State to return to September elections, because in November the mountain region is liable to be covered with snow.

The contract for supplying the Mexican Government with $4,000,000 in nickel coins has been awarded to a New York firm. The denominations of the coins are 1, 2 and 5 cents.

It was lately shown in a suit in Paris that a married man had paid over $20,000 blackmail rather than have his wife know that he had written an actress two love letters.

It is said that the life of the poet Whittier is much disturbed by women. One wealthy widow actually proposed to him, and other women have made violent love to him without avail.

The Chinese laundrymen in this country invariably put an assumed name on their signs. Thus Noy Po calls himself Sun Sing, and explains the custom by stating that if he were to die and some one else should use the signs with his real name on and do something discreditable, it could be an eternal stain upon the memory of the original owner.

Dr. Hammond last week described to the New York Neurological Society a man injured in the spine whose nerves had been so affected that when a "deep puncture with the blade of a pen knife" was made in his left leg he felt it in the corresponding spot on his right leg, which had no sensation whatever on its own account. The doctors can not cure this, but they have given it a nice name "Allochiria."

The Irrepressible Gas Bill.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

Experience has taught most people that a gas company will charge you the same whether you use one burner or a dozen. A trial now progressing in a New York Court develops the additional fact that the bill comes in all the same, although you may have burned no gas at all. The Manhattan Gas Company rendered a bill against Gen. Sickles for gas burned in his residence during a certain month. Gen. Sickles refused to pay the bill on the ground that the gas had not been burned. The company insisted that the bill was right, and threatened to remove the meters from the house if it was not paid, finally sending men on the premises for that purpose. At this point Sickles got out an injunction, and it comes in the proceedings in court that the Sickles house was locked up, and the family in Europe, during the period covered by the bill. But there is compensation for all this, albeit it is only for a small class: Gas stock always pays a good profit.

AYER's Sarsaparilla, being highly concentrated, requires a smaller dose, and is more effective dose for dose, than any other blood medicine. It is the cheapest because the best. Quality and not quantity should be considered.

RETAIL MARKET.

Corrected daily by G. W. GRISEL, grocer, Second street, Maysville, Ky.

FLOUR.
Limestone.....	$ 6 75
Maysville Family.....	5 75
Maysville City.....	6 25
Mason County.....	5 75
Kentucky Mills.....	5 50
Butter, # lb.....	20@25
Eggs, # doz.....	25
Meat # peck.....	20
Chickens.....	20@30
Molasses, fancy.....	70
Coal Oil, # gal.....	20
Sugar, granulated # lb.....	11
" A.....	10
" yellow # lb.....	8@9
Hams, sugar cured # lb.....	15
Bacon, breakfast # lb.....	15
Hominy, # gallon.....	20
Beans # gallon.....	50
Potatoes # peck.....	20
Coffee.....	12@15

I. W. BAIRD'S MAMMOTH Minstrels

OPERA HOUSE,
Friday, Jan. 26.

BEYOND DISPUTE

THE BEST ON EARTH.

The Royal Hind Bell Ringers.
10 Great Comedians.
The 4 Invincibles,
10 Challenge Clog Dancers.
The British Glee Bards.
8 Superb Solo Singers.
The Zouave Cadets.
20 Skilled Musicians.
Pharaoh, the Boneless Wonder.
12 Incomparable Specialists.

50 Funny 50 Famous 50
new and 50 Features. 50

USUAL POPULAR PRICES.

Reserved Seats at TA YLOIS' News Stand.

WATCH FOR THE GREAT

Gold and Silver Band Parade,

With the Finest Instruments and Gaudiest Features ever seen.

JOHN WHEELER'S

DAILY MARKET.

BIG DROP IN OYSTERS!

"S." Soup Oysters, half can.....15c
FAVORITE, half can.....25c
ANCHOR, full quart.....30c
SELECT.....35c
SELECT, EXTRA.....45c
SADDLE ROCK.....50c
BULK, quart.....35c

With each quart of Bulk TIN BUCKET oysters will be given a good

TERMS STRICTLY CASH.

JOHN WHEELER,

jan19d3m NO. 31, MARKET STREET

Wanted, A Boy.

Boy—"I saw your advertisement, sir, and came to see if I could get the place."

Storekeeper—"Of course you can give the best of reference for honesty, industry, intelligence, amiability, etc."

Boy—"Yes, sir."

Storekeeper—"The pay is reasonable, but not excessive at first."

Boy—"I don't care so much about the pay at first. All I want is enough for my board and clothes and a little pocket money in addition."

Storekeeper—"Of course, we don't expect you to work for nothing. The first year we pay fifty dollars, the second seventy-five, the third a hundred, and so on for the first ten years."

Boy—"You are very generous, sir; and what do you pay after the ten years are up?"

Storekeeper—"Oh, we shan't require your services any longer then. It will be more economical for us to hire a new boy at fifty dollars; and, beside, by allowing you to go, we are enabled to give another boy an opportunity to earn a livelihood."

Boy—"I suppose you would be willing to retain half of my wages while I stay, so that I may not be tempted to squander it as fast as I get it?"

Storekeeper—"It will put us to some trouble, but we might be induced to accommodate you if you would partially indemnify us by paying, say, ten dollars a year for the care and inconvenience that we should be put to."

Boy—"Thank you, sir; you are very kind. If you think ten dollars is not too little, I should be only too glad to accept your splendid offer. When shall I come?"

Storekeeper—"If your references prove satisfactory, you may come to-morrow morning. Your duties will be very light by the way. You will open the store at six, sweep out the six floors, build four furnace fires, dust the goods, and polish the brass signs. You will run errands the remainder of the day—no heavy bundles, you know—nothing above 150 pounds—keep the stock in order, copy letters, help the porter, etc., and at night you will see to the fire, put up the shutters and lock up. You will generally get away by seven though occasionally—once or twice a week, perhaps—you may have to stay until eight or nine, and besides that you will be gaining a business knowledge that will be invaluable to you when your ten years are up."

Boy—"I am delighted, sir, at my good fortune. You may be sure that I shall be around bright and early to-morrow."

Storekeeper—"All right. But if you have any better clothes, put them on. Like to have our employees dress well."

Boy—"Certainly, sir, I shall wear my best. They are not, perhaps, so elegant as they should be; but after I am in receipt of my salary, I shall be able to have a stylish custom suit every two or three months. Good day, sir."

The Virginia Country Squire of the Colonial Period.

Apart from politics, these country squires found but little business wherewith to occupy their time. The direct supervision of the slaves was ordinarily intrusted to overseers, and the masters were thus secured in the enjoyment of ample leisure, which men of noble ambition, such as Jefferson and Madison, could turn to good profit in cultivating their minds. But to men of more common mold this ample leisure became monotonous, and in such a society as that here depicted, with no town life, no roads or inns worth speaking of, and no amusements save horse-racing, the entertainment of guests by the month together was regarded both as a duty and as a privilege. Every planter kept open house, and provided for his visitors with unstinted hand. The style of living was extremely generous, and often splendid. The houses were spacious and solidly built, sometimes of brick or stone, but more often of wood. Panelled wainscots of oak and carved oaken chimney-pieces were common, and the rooms were furnished with the handsomest chairs and tables and cabinets that could be brought over from England. The dress, too, of both men and women was rich and costly, and the latest London fashions were carefully followed. Silver plate, elegant china, and choice wines were commonly to be found at these great manor-houses, and the stables were stocked with horses of the finest breed.

—John Fiske, in Harper's Magazine.

CITY AND COUNTY DIRECTORY.

Courts—Circuit Court.

Judge—A. E. Cole.
Commonwealth's Attorney—T. A. Curran.
Clerk—B. D. Parry.
Sheriff—Perry Jefferson.
Deputies: { Dan Perrine.
 { Chan Jefferson.
 { J. W. Alexander.
Jailer—Dennis Fitzgerald.
Tuesday after second Monday in January,
April, July and October in each year.

County Court.

Judge—Wm. P. Coons.
County Attorney—J. L. Whitaker.
Clerk—W. W. Ball.
Second Monday of each month.

Quarterly Court.

Tuesday after second Monday in March, June, September and December in each year.

Magistrates Courts.

Maysville, No. 1.—W. H. Pollock and J. L. Grant, first and third Tuesdays in March, June, September and December.

Maysville, No. 2.—Wm. Pepper and W. L. Holton, first Saturday and fourth Tuesday, same months.

Dover, No. 3.—A. A. Gibbon and A. F. Dobyns, first and third Wednesday, same month.

Minerva, No. 4.—O. N. Weaver and J. H. Watson, first and third Tuesdays, same months.

Germantown, No. 5.—S. F. Pollock and James Fegan, first and third Saturdays, same months.

Sardis, No. 6.—J. M. Ball and J. W. Tilton, second and fourth Saturdays, same months.

Mayslick, No. 7.—C. W. Williams and J. D. Raymond, second and fourth Fridays, same months.

Lewisburg, No. 8.—J. M. Alexander and Abner Ford, second and fourth Thursdays, same months.

Orangeburg, No. 9.—W. D. Coryell and W. J. Tully, first Saturday and last Monday, same months.

Washington, No. 10.—John Ryan and James Smithers, fourth Tuesday and third Wednesday, same months.

Murphysville, No. 11.—Lewis Jefferson and E. L. Gault, fourth Monday and third Thursday, same months.

Fern Leaf, No. 12.—S. E. Mastin and J. B. Burgess, second and fourth Saturdays, same months.

Constables.

Maysville, No. 1.—J. P. Wallace.
Maysville, No. 2.—W. L. Moran.
Dover, No. 3.—W. B. McMillan.
Minerva, No. 4.—James Runyon.
Germantown, No. 5.—Isaac Woodward.
Sardis, No. 6.—J. A. Collins.
Mayslick, No. 7.—Thomas Murphy.
Lewisburg, No. 8.—S. M. Stride.
Orangeburg, No. 9.—Thomas Hise.
Washington, No. 10.—James Gault.
Murphysville, No. 11.—W. R. Prather.
Fern Leaf, No. 12.—B. W. Wood.

Society Meetings—Masonic.

Confidence Lodge, No. 52, first Monday of each month.

Mason Lodge, No. 342, third Monday of each month.

Maysville, Chapter, No. 9, second Monday of each month.

Maysville Commandery, No. 10, fourth Monday of each month.

I. O. O. F.

Pisgah Encampment, No. 9, second and fourth Mondays in each month at 7 o'clock.

DeKalb Lodge, No. 12, Tuesday night, each week, at 7 o'clock.

Ringgold, No. 27, Wednesday night, each week, at 7 o'clock.

Knights of Honor.

The first and third Tuesday of each month. Lodge room on Sutton street.

K. of P.

Limestone Lodge, No. 36, Friday night of each week.

I. O. W. M.

Wednesday night each week, at their hall on Second street.

Sodality B. V. M.

Second and fourth Sundays in each month, at their hall on Limestone street.

Father Mathew T. A. S.

First Sunday in each month, at their hall on Limestone street.

St. Patrick's Benevolent Society.

Second Sunday in each month, at their Hall on Limestone street.

Cigar Makers' Union.

First Tuesday night in each month.

I. O. G. T.

Monday night of each week.

Mails.

K. C. R. R., arrives at 9:30 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. Departs at 5:45 a. m. and 12 m.

BONANZA, down Monday, Wednesday and Fridays at 6 p. m. Up Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 8 p. m.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

The Board of Council meets the first Thursday evening in each month.

Mayor—Horace January.

Council.

President—L. Ed. Pearce.
First Ward—Fred. Bendel, A. A. Wadsworth, L. Ed. Pearce.

Second Ward—Dr. G. W. Martin, Thomas J. Chenoweth, M. C. Hutchins.

Third Ward—Matt. Pearce, E. W. Fitzgerald, David Hechinger.

Fourth Ward—Dr. J. P. Phister, B. A. Wallingford, John W. Alexander.

Fifth Ward—Wm. B. Mathews, James Hall, Edward Myall.

Treasurer and Collector—E. E. Pearce.
Clerk—Harry Taylor.

Marshal—James Redmond.
Deputies: { Robert Browning.
 { Wm. Dawson.

Wharfmaster—Robert Flicklin.
Wood and Coal Inspector—Peter Parker.

Marketmaster—M. T. Cockerill.
City Physician—Dr. J. T. Strobe.

Keeper of Alms House—Mrs. S. Mills.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address TAUN & Co. Augusta, Maine. mar25ly

R. B. LOVEL,

Nos. 50 and 52, Market Street.

—Dealer in Staple and Fancy—

GROCERIES, PROVISIONS &c., &c.

I am now offering to the public, purchased from first hands, for cash, and selected with the greatest care, the LARGEST and most Complete Stock of Goods in my line ever offered in Maysville. My aim is to surpass, both as to VARIETY and QUALITY of Goods, and to give every person who may buy of me full value for his money. My house is Headquarters for and all kinds of Country Produce. Will have a full supply of attractive specialties for the Holidays.

Poultry, Game, Butter, Eggs

Sole Agent for sale of GAFF, FLEISCHMANN & CO.'S Celebrated

COMPRESSED YEAST.

Goods delivered to all parts of the city

Free of Charge.

GEO. ORT, Jr.,

—HEADQUARTERS FOR—

FURNITURE

Articles suitable for the holidays.

FINE CAMP CHAIRS,

TOY CHAIRS, of all kinds, WAGONS, CRADLES, MIRRORS, MATTRESSES and SPRINGS.

RAFFLE—A Bed-Room set of Furniture valued at $ 75 will be raffled as soon as the chances are taken. One Dollar a Chance.

BURGESS BLOCK,

SUTTON STREET, MAYSVILLE, KY

Fine Parlor and Bedroom Suits, sold by photographs at Cincinnati prices. Repairing of all kinds done in the best manner and promptly. Charges reasonable. I will not be undersold.

Bargains! Bargains!!

LET not your hearts be troubled. We are still here and will sell you more goods for the same amount of money than any other house in the city. We are determined to close out our entire stock of goods by the 1st of next April, and will offer to CASH BUYERS great inducements. Among our stock is a large line of ready made which we offer at prime cost. Children's wool sacks at 50 and 75 cents. Hoods at 40 cents. These goods are worth double the money we ask for them.

CLOTHING, OVERCOATS, ETC.,

We have also a fresh line of Christmas goods and toys without number, which we are offering at greatly reduced prices. Wax Dolls at 50 cents worth $1. Bohemian decorated vases 25 cents a pair. A large lot of Japanese goods at less than half their value. An immense stock of

JEWELRY

At cost. Our stock of ladies and children's shoes is very large and all custom made. Also, a big line of ladies hats trimmed in New York, all fresh goods which we are offering at cost.

Men's full regular undershirts at 75 cents per pair. Hats and boots at rock-bottom prices. Four ply linen collars 15 cents. Clocks very cheap, and everything usually found in a first-class mammoth country store. Call early and get bargains while they are fresh. Our prices talk.

J. A. JACKSON & SON.

Mayslick, Ky., December 18, 1882.
r. s.—Those knowing themselves indebted to me, by note or account, must come forward and settle at once, or an officer will call on you. I have not the time d18d&w2m J. A. JACKSON.

THE WEBER PIANO.

For power, purity of tone, brilliancy of touch, beauty of finish and durability it has no equal. The most eminent pianists pronounce it

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

L. F. METZGER.

MANAGER, Branch office, Maysville, Ky

—Also, The Matchless—

BURDETT ORGAN.

A full supply of pianos and organs constantly on hand. Correspondents promptly answered. Payments easy. sep26d&wly.

Established 1865.

EQUITY GROCERY.

G. W. GEISEL,

No. 9, W. Second St., Opp. Opera House,

MAYSVILLE, KY.

Fruits and Vegetables in season. Your patronage respectfully solicited. j14dly